I grew up in Del Mar and treasure our vibrant community which my great-grandfather, Col. Ed Fletcher, developed over 100 years ago. He carefully laid out Del Mar's hillside streets and lots to maximize the views we continue to enjoy today.

As an avid surfer, I am committed to preserving our eroding beaches by implementing adaptation strategies including sand replenishment. I will uphold the voter-approved Beach Protection Initiative that provides shoreline protection for 600 North Beach residences and businesses worth $1.5 billion, a significant part of Del Mar's tax base.

My public safety priorities include better securing our neighborhoods, establishing Neighborhood Watch programs, working more effectively with the Sherriff, and undergrounding dangerous power lines in our tree-lined hills and brush-filled canyons.

As the former owner of a frozen yogurt shop, I know how challenging it is to run a small retail business. I will use my retail and real estate experience to help support and revitalize our village's commercial corridor.

I pledge to uphold our Community Plan, exercise budgetary discipline, listen to all points of view, be fair and work hard for the residents of Del Mar.

It is a privilege and honor to be running for Del Mar City Council! I am running to promote a more beautiful city and a more efficient, action-oriented government through a combination of common sense, technology, and fresh ideas. After previously living in New York City and San Francisco, my wife, Brie, and I moved to Del Mar in 2010. We plan to live here for the rest of our lives—this is home. I first became involved in Del Mar civic life through volunteering on the finance committee, and then through leading the successful 2016 campaign for Measure Q, which will generate approximately $2 million per year in revenue for the City to fund key infrastructure projects, including utility undergrounding, the Shores Park redevelopment, and downtown street improvements. My passions include Notre Dame, pizza, craft beer, history, gardening, basketball, surfing, hiking, biking, camping, beach volleyball, and efficient government. I also volunteer at Father Joe's Villages in downtown San Diego and am working on a dorm-room inspired idea to end homelessness. Look for me walking my dog Lola, on the volleyball courts at dog beach, surfing in the water, or biking around town. Learn more at www.danquirkdelmar2018.com!

My roots in Del Mar are deep, reflecting decades of work protecting Del Mar as a special place to live. As a Del Mar resident since 1981, former City Attorney, committee and nonprofit volunteer, and lawyer, I have championed resident priorities: honoring our Community Plan, lagoon restoration, a public vote on major downtown developments, and protection of our environment and open space. I authored the Beach Protection Initiative protecting our most valuable environmental asset.

I have a proven track record finding practical solutions while respecting divergent viewpoints. I have championed short-term rental regulations that protect residential neighborhoods, improving our DRB process, completing our Civic Center on time and on budget, implementing Streetscape, a balanced budget and strong financial condition, and fostering civility and respect in our decision-making. My priorities include safe, legal beach access across the tracks, addressing sea level rise, mitigating fairground impacts including traffic, meeting affordable housing mandates, and facilitating strong public participation in major development projects. I bring a "deep dive" approach to complex issues. I am committed to preserving the special residential character of our neighborhoods. I pledge to listen, to be civil to all, and to work hard for Del Mar every day.
