LOSSAN Rail Realignment Project

Starting in September, SANDAG plans to do geotechnical testing in several locations within the cities of Del Mar and San Diego to learn more about the underground soil structure. This work, combined with previous geotechnical studies, will help the project team evaluate the potential alignments or rail routes. Learn more about the project.

Crews may begin marking the road where utilities are located near testing sites. SANDAG will notify residents before any geotechnical testing begins.

Note:- Construction schedules are subject to change.
